

OPEN STUDIO HUDSON 2021 OCTOBER 9 - OCTOBER 10

PARTICIPATING ARTISTS

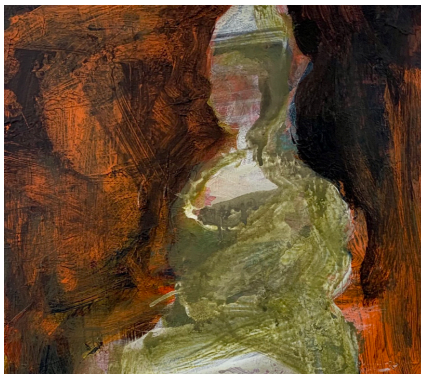

Jeff Starr
36 Worth Avenue, Hudson

I combine painting and drawing resulting in work dense with visual information, reflective of the increase in our digital, social and political confusion.

Jeremy K Bullis
43 South 3rd Street, Hudson

Jeremy K. Bullis is a sculptor and world builder who uses wood, paper, wire, drawings, photos and writing to explore a variety of ideas. He is currently focused on three distinct bodies of work.

David Becker
200 Station Rd, Hudson

The endeavors in my studio practice encompass journals, drawings, painting studies, and photography, and of course, Painting.

Michelle Brandemuehl
603 Warren Street, Hudson

My work is a conversation about the whatness of people, places and things. I rely on restraint and minimal form as a point of entry, exploring the relationship between subtlety and the sublime.

D. Jack Solomon
726 Union Street, Hudson

These paintings are based on small graphite line drawings, which is a departure from the starting point of previous bodies of work derived from detailed dark/light collages.

Reggie Madison
Basilica Back Gallery, Hudson

Peggy Cyphers
248 State Street, Hudson

The purpose of my painting is to express the magnificence of this amazingly beautiful universe. I celebrate the mystery of my sensory communication with plants and animals, water and earth.
